CYBERHOUND SPEAKUP

CYBERHOUND HELPS YOU SPEAKUP FOR THOSE THAT NEED IT

When things aren't going well, young people can feel that they have nowhere to turn. They don't always know who to talk to or how to voice their concerns.

CyberHound is seeking to change that by enabling students to log concerns about the welfare and wellbeing of themselves or fellow students. Young people now have a way to SpeakUp.

SpeakUp is an easy to use self-service mechanism that empowers students, and it enables school leadership to provide enhanced pastoral care.

How to SpeakUp

SpeakUp is located in CyberHound's innovative LiveZone portal. Students have access to LiveZone, so sharing concerns and incidents via SpeakUp is now just a click away.

Using SpeakUp, students are able to privately share information around topics including:

- Physical and self harm
- Threatening and harassing behaviours
- Bullying - including cyberbullying
- Racism and hate speech
- Predatory behaviours

These concerns are provided in either an alert or a regular digest to school leadership to review and act on accordingly. The school is then able to work with individuals affected or monitor behaviours of those at risk.

The whole school community is empowered by a self-service mechanism that can be securely accessed at any time on the school network.
